Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35

U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No.

09/343,716, filed on 6/30/99. Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 and 13-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,023. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current application contains the phraseology "a communication apparatus connected to a terminal apparatus via a network, the communication apparatus comprising: a detector that detects at least part of the communication apparatus to obtain status information regarding the detected part of the communication apparatus; a memory configured to store a homepage generated by a HTML file, the homepage including information regarding the detected part of the communication apparatus, and status information which indicates the detected status of the part of the communication apparatus; said detector generating a latest status information to be stored in said memory when a change in the status of the part of the communication apparatus occurs; and a communicator configured to transmit the homepage to the terminal apparatus when a request for the homepage is received from the terminal apparatus, the homepage being displayed at the terminal apparatus to simultaneously display the function information and the status information, said communicator further configured to transmit only the latest status information, to update the status information of the homepage, displayed at the terminal apparatus, when a request for only the status information is received from the terminal apparatus" which can be interpreted as being another way of saying the same thing as claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,785,023 which uses the phraseology "a communication apparatus connected to a terminal apparatus via a network, the communication apparatus comprising: a detector that detects at least part of the communication apparatus to obtain status information regarding the detected part of the communication apparatus; a generator that generates a HTML file indicating the status information and having a predetermined icon, the status information comprising a file indicating a status of the detected part of the communication apparatus; and a communicator that transmits the HTML file to the terminal apparatus when a request for the HTML file, including the status information and the predetermined icon, is received from the terminal apparatus, the status information being displayed at the terminal apparatus, said communicator further transmitting the latest status information when the predetermined icon displayed at the terminal apparatus is clicked while the status information is displayed". This is only some of the similarities, the claims contain several.
